NANT CLEARING DAY is conclusive evidence of its

REMNANT CLEARING DAY.

THE EVENING STAR bas a regular and permanent circulation in Washington three times larger than that of any other paper in thecity. As a local NEWS paper and Advertising Medium it has no competitor.

It is especially important at this late day in the heated term to draw on the history of cholera epidemics for warning against overconfidence in the suppression of the disease at the end of the first season. These epidemics originate in India, spread from fairs into central Asia, thence into Russia and from there into the seaboards of other countries. It was so in the famous epidemic of 1829-33, and, so far as can be learned, in the present epidemic which is devastating Russia, Hamburg and Havre with sporadic outputs in other countries and localities. The former was slower on account of slower means of transportation in that day. But it is believed both started, the last a month earlier, on their rounds in "Holy Russia," from Saratof. The point to insist on in the comparison is this: There is, on account of the early start, a probability of wider diffusion this time, as Surgeon General Cornish of Great Britain has pointed out in the London New Review, notwithstanding increased appliances for treating the disease and improved sanitary conditions. An early winter, he observes, may restrict the progress of the epidemic. But the experience of the former great epidemic shows that although the disease reached British all in November, a time favorable for its restriction, it took on new force the next spring and raged with great vigor for two years. This is just the trouble, as has been several times pointed out by high medical authorities. The germs may enter a country unobserved in the late fall or winter, linger comparatively harmless for months and on the return of warm weather may suddenly break out with violence in a number of places. The danger is in the weak spots-in unpreparedness, in over-confidence in preparations and in such thoughtlessness as characterized the health officers at Chicago yesterday in permitting a train load of immigrants to be distributed without even a cursory inspection.

train load of immigrants to be distributed without even a cursory inspection.

The preparations by the District health authorities for the reception of cholera if it should come through the quarantine lines are in some respects necessarily limited, but it is well as authorities for the reception of cholera if it that they are on foot. It is hoped that the old that they are on foot. It is hoped that the old smallpox hospital may be put into good condition for use as a cholera hospital should it be 59 tion for use as a cholera hospital should it be required. One very important matter, not heretofore canvassed so far as THE STAR is aware, is the examination of passengers on the mains and disinfection of all who may have come through from any Canadian or American scaport and become liable to contagion either in their persons or personal effects. Pittsburg is resorting to this measure of safety. While it may be thought that Washington is much less exposed than western cities to this danger the large immigration westward over the B. and O. R. R. passing through this city and sometimes stopping for a time here calls for inspection of the passenger trains and of such freight as may have come from an infected port.

The recent fatal grade-crossing accident in Northeast Washington has apparently opened the eyes of Justice for a time so that notice can be taken of the illegal speed of trains. The difficulty in the past has been to furnish evidence that was satisfactory to the courts that a train which all the world knew was running at an illegal rate was in fact so running. So many objections have been made and sustained to the methods employed of timing the trains that it has seemed at times as if nothing short of a confession under oath from the engineer would be certainly convincing. Both the grade-crossing accident and the arrests for sending engines through the streets at an illegal speed will, it is hoped, quicken the vigor with which the Baltimore and Ohio presses before Congress next crossings by the construction of an arched masonry viaduct to its main Washington sta-

The republican convention in the old Randall district of Philadelphia has set all tongues a-wagging by nominating as its candidate for Congress the present democratic representative, McAleer, who under the party organization was defeated for renomination, but was renominated by an independent convention of democrats. It seems, therefore, that the quarrel between the old Randallites, friends of Mr. McAleer, and the Cleveland-Pattison wing, headed by Chairman Harrity, has become acut and that the republicans have come to the aid of the former, placing Mr. McAleer in the queer attitude of being the nominee of two different parties. It seems to be a year of political

The segregation of the cabin passengers on quarantined vessels in New York harbor is both a wise and humane provision. It is wise because it may reduce the material on which the contagion feeds by removing it in time. It is humane because in some instances the quarantined vessel has only a remote chance of infection and that chance is lessened by taking the passenger out of the injected readstead and placing him on land where he may have greater immunity from the disease, as well as some of the conveniences of a new situation. All changes that both decrease the peril of the community and the hardship of the individual at quarantine should

This is the old, old story. characteristic of higher rounds in civilization than a pugilist ever attains to. In the case in point there is no apparent injustice, since Sullivan's career abounds in incidents of unusual brutality and there is a feeling of quiet satisfaction that the bruiser has been bruised to his great and deserved humiliation.

European physicians are endeavoring to reassure this country by declaring that the cholera is not so dangerous as we think. This is very kind, but this country may be pardoned for refusing to weicome even a mildly objectionable epidemic.

The slang expression "Come off" should be emphatically suspended with reference to people who insist on boarding incoming ships from cholera locations. "Stay on" is the new and cholera locations. "Stay on" is the new and

ABOUT ADVERTISING.

HELPFUL TO THE PUBLIC NOT LESS THAN TO THE MERCHANT.

STUPIDITY OF EXAGGERATION.

A DVERTISEMENTS are being more and more read ecause they are proving more and more helpful to the reader. Merchants are beginning to see the stupidity of exaggeration. The public are gaining confidence-are larning by practical experience that if pays to read advertisements.

63 The above appeared in the Star of August 11, 1892. The Palais Royal wrote not less for itself than other merchants. Now that the opening of a new season is here the Star's advertising columns should contain valuable information concerning the latest autumn fashions and it is therefore time to repeat that merchants generally are not stupid enough to invite disbelief and financial disaster by untruthrul statements. Of course we all introduce ourselves as well as we know how. That the Palais Royal is in a position often to advertise prices ess than usually prevailing is because its cash business assures the lowest prices when buying and makes the smallest profit prossible when selling. The merchants who credit so many of their patrons cannot afford as small profits, and they therefore advertise so as to try and counteract this superiority of their

UNTIL 6 P. M. SATURDAY. LADIES' HOSE.

A détailed list was before the writer as he wrote. It does credit to the buyer; an interesting catalogue might be compiled from it. But here we must con-

> 50 cents, and that will be their price after Saturday. There are Fast Black Lisle and Cotton Hose, fancy boot patterns and many indescribable styles the latest Paris novelties. And all are ingrain dyed-dyed before weaving and therefore better colors and better wearing than the hose usually offered at 35c.

49c. lots include such novelties as these: Polka Dots in combination colors; Navy Blue Hose, with instep silk embroidered; black, with vertical stripes of silk embroidery; and here are Boot Patterns of fancy colors that are guaranteed as fadeless as the fast black; all the new French grays and London reds and fast

98c. for choice of a bewildering variety. Se those with black feet and ankles printed and embroidered in artistic designs, looking so frail, but guaranteed to wash. And here is the Sanda! Hose, the effect produced by black and colors. And see these black stockings with floral designs of silk floss. These look worth nearer $2.50 than 98 cents: boot patterns, with black feet and instep ornamented with arabesque or Persian designs. Now comes the best value of all. Silk Hose with open work in lace effects, which is the to-be fashionable stocking of the 1892-93 season.

$1.25 to $5.68.—Between these extremes prices are many others, for a collection of Fine Silk Hosiery, the equal of which has never before been brought to Washington. The usual also opera lengths and tights are included at above prices. The buyer will be only too pleased for conneisseurs to call and look through the stock without any present thought of buying.
